When thinking of what embodies me as a person I can think of no better quote than the following: "Life 's most persistent and urgent question is: what are you doing for others?" - Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

My Journey throughout the FFA has been a metamorphosis of growth both personally and professionally. From gaining tangible skills in my first vegetable judging CDE, paired with networking with like minded individuals at conferences, as well as growing my SAE has presented me with the opportunity to represent Area II as your next State Vice President.

My passion for the FFA, and the agriculture industry has transformed into a solid part of my high school experience, as well as my growth as a person. This growth has allowed me to acquire and hone skills that I believe will be beneficial to my year of service. My Bubbly and outgoing personality allows me to be able to reach people from all walks of life. Through the strategy of social engagement I have been able to expand and build upon my leadership skills. I also have the ability to articulate issues in a way that is not difficult to understand. FFA has Helped me in developing my love for people, as well as my time management and ability to make everyone feel welcome. I also have been able to develop the ability to see the bright side of every situation.

My goal in every situation is to do everything I can to make everyone feel loved and heard. Everyone can find a family and their own place within this organization. Just as past leadership in our association has helped me find my place. I want to be a part of helping others find their place.

Happiness and positivity are choices, choices that I choose to make every single day, and I want to share as much of that with the Florida FFA Association as

This jacket has acted as a catalyst and a vessel in many of our personal stories, helping us to grow wings as people and as leaders.

I believe the biggest aspect in the transformation for leadership is passion, and passion for the FFA is something I have no shortage of I look forward to being able to help others develop their passion for the FFA and for agriculture, and to being an advocate for the industry that I hold so near and dear to my heart.

Everyone has an individual experience and personal growth but its the commonality of this jacket that has allowed the people who wear it to become my family. The opportunity to serve my state association and share my love and passion through this role makes me so incredibly excited.

I believe that our journey and our growth as leaders and as people is never ending and that we are all, always.

Still Becoming.

Sincerely, Chloe Marcum
